QUALIFIERS
WOMEN'S EHF EURO 2022

INTRODUCTION

The 15th edition of the Women's EHF European Handball Championship, the EHF EURO 2022, will be hosted by Slovenia, North Macedonia and Montenegro from 4 to 20 November 2022.

However, before teams can dream of a place at the final tournament, they need to prove themselves in the upcoming qualification phase, which will see 24 countries competing over six rounds between October 2021 and May 2022. The participating nations have been drawn into six groups of four, from where they will fight for the 12 available places at the final tournament.

After playing on a home-and-away basis in a round-robin system, the two top-ranked teams in each group will progress to the finals.

As hosts, Slovenia, North Macedonia and Montenegro were automatically assured three of the 16 available spots at the final tournament, which will be the last Women's EHF EURO before it expands to 24 teams in 2024. Alongside the hosts, the 2020 winners, Norway, have their ticket to the EHF EURO 2022 secured. They will join the three host nations in the premiere women's edition of the EHF EURO Cup during the six national team weeks reserved for the qualification phase.

For you, the media, the EHF Media and Communications Department has prepared this media guide to provide a comprehensive overview of all 24 teams participating. It contains an extensive overview of all records of players and teams, as well as head-to-head statistics for the six qualification groups, tournament history and media contacts at each of the competing national federations.

After finally getting their hands on an Olympic gold last summer in Tokyo, France will be keenly targeting one of the spots at the final tournament. Playing against the Czech Republic, Ukraine and Croatia, the surprise package of the previous EHF EURO 2020, in qualification group 4, France will not only aim to reach the final event but will ultimately be hoping to be present on the final weekend once more. You can read more about their team on page 21.

Reigning world champions from 2019, the Netherlands will play from group 3, meeting Germany, Belarus and Greece. The Dutch team will surely be looking to make a statement in this qualification phase, following their medal-less 2020 trip to Denmark. To find out more about them go to page 16.

Throughout the qualification phase, the EHF Media and Communications Department will continually update the media with results and news relating to the tournament. However, if you have any questions or queries, the department is only an email away, so please feel free to get in touch with the team in Vienna on media@eurohandball.com.

QUALIFICATION OVERVIEW

Qualification Phase 1

Exactly four months before the throw-off in October, the starting grid for the Women's EHF EURO 2022 qualifiers was complete, following the conclusion of qualification phase 1 as Portugal, Greece, and Faroe Islands have grabbed the three remaining tickets.

Portugal eased through their group with clear wins over Luxembourg, Cyprus, and, in the deciding match, hosts Kosovo. That dominance earned them a spot in qualifiers group E, where Spain, Hungary and Slovakia will be their opponents.

Playing at home, Greece had a similar convincing run in their group as they beat Bosnia and Herzegovina, Latvia, and Italy, all with a margin of more than 10 goals. Their reward was a place in qualifiers group C, where Netherlands, Germany and Belarus will be waiting.

Faroe Islands were involved in a lot closer affair. Hosting a three-team group, they edged Finland by two goals in their opener before also beating Israel to advance to the next phase. They can look forward to playing Denmark, Romania, and Austria in qualifiers group B.
